++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry and bright, but blustery showers in far north.

Today:
Most dry with occasional bright and sunny spells, these best from Central Belt southwards. Some showers about however, mainly confined to the Highlands and Islands, with some heavy and blustery over Northern Isles. Feeling cold in strong winds across Northwest.

Tonight:
Mostly dry with clear spells more frequent from Central Belt southwards. Showers over far north, heavier early evening across Northern Isles. Longer periods of rain reaching Northwest towards dawn.

Monday:
Sunshine and showers for Northern Isles. Elsewhere early brightness in east and south on an otherwise cloudy day with some patchy rain, this most persistent and heavier across the Highlands.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rather cloudy with some patchy rain at times, mainly confined to northwest of the country. Best of the limited brighter spells in the Central Belt and around the east coast.
